Comments 1:

This is definitely a devious young man. A wider view would really help us understand just what he is up to.

Comments 2:

Good capture of a mischievous look. Details in the background are distracting. Crop out the pot on the right would help.

Comments 3:

Great capture and exposure. Very mischievous look

Comments 1:

I like the subject but there are too many distracting elements.

Comments 2:

Good composition, focus. The object in the frog's hand is the focus of the viewer's attention it is underexposed and it is unclear as to what it is.

Comments 3:

Great shot

Comments 1:

Now these fellas are definitely up to some mischief. It's a little under exposed (dark) and I don't know that the foreground in the vertical crop adds to the story.

Comments 2:

Adorable boys. Exposure on faces could have benefited from fill flash. The plants in the foreground do not add to the story they could be cropped out.

Comments 3:

Good shot. Would love to know what they are thinking

Comments 1:

I really like the possible humorous captions for this photo. The shallow depth-of-field keeps the viewer's focus on the two subjects.

Comments 2:

Colourful . Capturing the squirrel and the jay in the same shot is challenging. However, what the subject is unclear. The jay is unfortunately hidden. The birch is also a distraction.

Comments 3:

Lovely exposure and depth of field. Wonder who is going to flinch first?

Comments 1:

This is a cutie but the rather distressed expression doesn't strike me as humorous as it would someone who knows the child. There seems to have been a lot a sharpening indicated by the subtle glow along the baby and adult arms.

Comments 2:

Interesting and unusual idea. Exposure, focus and composition are very good. The water on the baby gives it a bizarre look and the water falling from the baby's hands give a sense of motion.

Comments 3:

Nice capture. I wonder what the baby would really like to say?

Comments 1:

This looks like a challenge for both subjects. I like the setup and I'm sure the full story is quite good. Next time you could have the male subject pretend to be sleeping to add to the humor.

Comments 2:

Funny. Tells a clear story. Interaction is great. Focus and exposure good. Composition could benefit from cropping out the shelf on the right bringing more attention to the subjects.

Comments 3:

Well done. Can read into the expression and look on both subjects faces. Simple composition that tells a great humorous story that seems so natural.

Comments 1:

Yes a dog in a stroller is cute, but if you had a small child pushing the stroller instead of riding in it you start to get to a more humorous photo.

Comments 2:

Cute puppy. A shallower depth of field would have drawn more attention to the main subject. Cropping in closer so the puppy was more clearly the subject would help so we could see the expression on his face.

Comments 3:

Great picture- very cute

Comments 1:

I like the depth-of-field, exposure and colour treatment. The possible humorous captions are just waiting to be written.

Comments 2:

Amusing. The subject is clear and it tells a story. Technically well done. Perhaps a little crop on the left in would bring the subject closer. It is minor but perhaps straightening the roof would make it a less distracting.

Comments 3:

Wonderful exposure and composition. Wonder if he found what he was looking for?

I love the expression and the perfect position of the chipmunk's front paws. The log in the front could be removed.

Comments 2:

Chipmunk is nicely focused and the exposure is good. The dark upper right corner is distracting. Perhaps crop in closer to the chipmunk and get rid of the distractions.

Comments 3:

Great setup, depth and composition. Simple background with subject sharp drawing attention to chubby cheeks

Comments 1:

Too many things that could be the story or center-of-interest.

Comments 2:

The sign is funny. The composition has a nice leading line to the sign however, it is too busy. I think if you removed the lamp and had just the tire and the sign it would be more effective.

Comments 1:

The clever name of the boat is a good starting point but I think it is necessary to include more water in the photo since it is key to the story in the name.

Comments 2:

The title of the boat is humourous. The picture itself does not really tell a story. It appears to be over sharpened as well, the railings are pixilated.

Comments 1:

Is this a dog who piles wood or a dog who puts wood on the fire? There isn't a lot of detail in the dog so boosting the exposure to help the subject stand out. Cropping the water more so it's not so dominate would help as well.

Comments 2:

Cute. Tells a clear story. Composition is good. The dog is so dark you can't see his eye. Perhaps a little dodging on the dog would help.

Comments 3:

Great shot. Leaves enough to the imagination to decide whether helping or hindering.

I don't get it.

Comments 2:

Great expression on her face. Depth of field that close up is difficult. It is good except for the snow on her mouth. Unfortunately, it is where your eye goes first.

Comments 1:

The caterpillar isn't in focus and we could really use the expression on the face just below that caterpillar.

Comments 2:

The idea is humorous. The boy is well exposed and in good focus. The caterpillar is however out of focus and the eye goes right there since is the point of interest.

Comments 3:

Comments 1:

This is a very interesting location but I don't see the humor.

Comments 2:

Certainly an interesting place. The focus and exposure are good. The signs are funny and interesting but the eye wanders around reading all the signs and is not sure where the center of interest is supposed to be.
